At Temple Theatre, Nov. 28th, Grace Conquer will present The Little Miss Francs Company of 25 people in "Resurrection."

Mrs. Elsie Robinson has sold her cottage on West Main to Brick Southworth, and purchased the home of Mr. Will Buckley, on East Main, and has taken possession.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Buckley, who have made their home here for several years, have moved to Howell, Ind. Their many friends regret to see them go.

Wagon, buggy, surrey and a nice line of Jersey cows with calves for sale or trade for any old thing. W. C. McLeod.

A party of girls and boys went museum hunting Friday night. They captured one of the little animals and treed a polecat, which, with the gun they had, more than repaid them for the long tramp.

The services of the Epworth League last Sunday evening were conducted by Miss Lizzie Dean, late president. Next Sunday the services will be led by Miss Hazel Annett.

We make a specialty of doing job work. We do good work and get it right while you wait. If you have anything in this line, bring it to the Bee and have it done right.

Messrs. Charles Brewster, Liston Straker, Bonnie Wilson, Young Albin and several others of this city, who have been in the employ of the Southwestern Book Company, in South Carolina, have returned home after a five months' absence.

Quite a large number of persons from this place went to Madisonville Thursday night to see Murray and Mack's production, "Around the Town." All of them seemed to be well pleased with the performance.

Mrs. O. P. Webb and son, Cecil, left Monday morning for Nashville, where Mrs. Webb will run a first class boarding house. Mr. Webb will remain in this city until after Christmas, to attend to business matters, and then he will join his wife and son in Nashville. Their many friends regret that business calls them away, and if fate should bring them to Earlington again, they will be welcomed home.

Fresh lot of Bliss' Native Herbs, Oil and Balsam at Geo. W. Figeley's, next door to Ross' drug store, Madisonville.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church will meet with Mrs. J. B. Wyatt on Moss avenue next Tuesday.

Mrs. Polk Blair, who was recovering from an attack of typhoid fever, has suffered a relapse and is now in a serious condition.

Rumor says that a popular young lady of this city and a man popular in railroad circles will be married in the near future. Guess who.

Go to Crenshaw for ladies' and misses' tailor made skirts.

The usual services will be held at the Christian church next Sunday. The subject of the evening sermon will be "Is Christianity Superhuman?"

A baby girl was born to Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Renfro on last Saturday. Mother and child doing nicely and the Dr. is all smiles.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Watts on Wednesday morning a fine baby boy. Mother and child doing well and Theo. wears a broad smile.

The advance reports of the new musical comedy, "Hans an' Nix," which is being presented by the famous original German comedians, Dixon and Fields, and an extraordinary strong cast of players, is indeed flattering to the management. The performance contains a whole lot of good things.

Mr. Dean has handled some prize pigs this week and his shop bears that only appearance left by the passage of fat shoats with their clothes off. Rev. F. Story brought in two pigs, eleven months of age on the date of their execution, that netted $22 pounds. Wm. Bradley contributed the big one. His shoot was two years old and weighed 400 pounds in his bare feet and without his overcoat.

Last Sunday morning while a freight train was making up, preparatory to going south, the plaintive cry of a kitten was heard, and as soon as the cars became still the bystanders began searching for the author of that pitiful cry. They soon found the kitten sitting on the trucks under the car and at once rescued it. As soon, however, as the cat was released, and the train was in motion, it ran under the cars, jumped upon a truck and began its southern trip. This is the first time, perhaps, that a cat has "hoboed" on the L. & N.

Crenshaw has a few suits of gents' clothes he is closing out at cost. Give him a call.

A Junior Endeavor Society was organized at the Christian church last Sunday afternoon. The following officers were selected: President, Mabel Browning; Vice President, George Myers, Sec'y and Treas., Virginia McGary. The meetings will be held once each month.

Considered as an up-to-date operatic extravaganza of the most potent sort, "The Isle of Bong Bong" B. C. Whitney's sparkling musical surprise, which is to be the offering at the Morton Theatre, Madisonville, Wednesday, Nov. 28, will prove a veritable revelation to the most discrimination playgoer. John W. Ransome heads the all star cast, including Alice Yorks, Anna Boyd, John W. Hendricks, Walter Charles Parcor and other well known favorites. The chorus numbers 60 people.

Dixon and Fields in their latest comedy success "Hans an' Nix" claim a whirlwind of laughs from the first act to the final curtain. Nothing that might aid to the production has been neglected. The principals have been chosen for their adaptability for their parts. "The Show Girls" and feminine chorus, comprise graceful girls, attractive in face and figure, and endowed with rare skill for artistic and brilliant effects. The dances of the three acts are marvels in the way of stage pictures. Nothing like them has ever been attempted before and, undoubtedly, the attendant expense will deter other road managers from imitating.

The scenic production and accessories of "The Isle of Bong Bong" are said to be elaborate in the extreme. Manager B. C. Whitney has excelled all previous endeavors in securing a tremendous all star cast for this, his latest and most ambitious offering, which comes to the Morton Theatre, Madisonville, Nov. 28. The inimitable dialect comedian John W. Ransome, who won international renown as the creator of the "Cincinnati Brewer" in "The Prince of Pilsen," has the leading role; sprightly and vivacious Alice Yorks is the prima donna; Anna Boyd, John W. Hendricks, Walter Ware, Charles Parcor and other well known stage celebrities are numbered among the principals. The chorus consists of 60 people mostly girls.

The Sunday school lecture Tuesday night at the Christian church by Mr. Gebauer, of Henderson, was most instructive and entertaining. The stereoscopic views of the life of Christ taken from the original pictures by Hoffman were lovely and his description of the views were most interesting. His lecture will no doubt result in much good to the Sunday schools of this place.

Crushed Between the Cars.

Edward Tanner, of this city, met his death at 8 o'clock this morning while doing work at Hopkinsville. He left Earlington at 1 o'clock this morning with Conductor Bailey. Mr. Tanner was a hardworking industrious young man and had a bright future before him. For several years past he had been employed in the railroad service at this place, first as caller and later as yard clerk under Yardmaster Brannwell. He was a member of the Tribe of Ben Hur and was insured for $2200, which will go to his widowed mother. The entire community extended sympathy to the bereaved mother.

WHO CREATES PREJUDICE?

"Oh, no. The Huester has nothing against Earlington, whatever, and Tux Bex should cease trying to work up prejudice between Earlington and Madisonville."—Judge Givens in the Madisonville Huester.

This is the cracker Judge Givens ties to the end of an editorial in the Madisonville Huester and by which he endeavors to cover his own culpability in this attempt to lay at the door of Tux Bex the absurd charge of working up prejudice between Earlington and Madisonville. This cracker is put on the shelf of the Judge's belated reply to Tux Bex's request of October 26th asking him to specify what towns in Hopkins county had been an expense to the county in connection with the smallpox epidemics in the past, as seemed clearly the inference intended to be drawn from the editorial utterance of the Judge to which Tux Bex called attention first on October 26th, some days before the election. This utterance from Judge Givens' pen was published by Tux Bex at that time has, been published once since in these columns and is now again published, all in order that this quotation or misquotation may not rightfully be charged against Tux Bex. The paragraph, about which the Judge says Tux Bex is entirely mistaken, reads as follows:

"But next year the county will be entirely out of debt, and on a cash basis, and there will be plenty of funds available for road work, that is, unless smallpox breaks out among the republicans of certain towns of the county."

The Bex called the Judge's attention on October 26 to the wrong impression his utterance was creating and asked him to specify what towns had been a burden to the county in smallpox epidemics. If he did not mean that Earlington or any mining town of Hopkins county should suffer in the eyes of the readers of the Madisonville Huester through the hurtful impression they were getting from this insinuating editorial utterance, he had some days and several issues of the Madisonville Huester in which to do the "square" thing and explain away this hurtful impression that was finding lodgment prior to election in the minds of partisans inflamed by a political campaign.

But he didn't, and, as Tux Bex later prophesied would be, the Judge attempted no sort of excuse or explanation until after the election had passed and the minds of partisans needed, for the present, no further inflaming.

Now that the Judge finally realizes he must say something, he declares that Tux Bex is all wrong and that the Huester did not mean anything derogatory. And he admonishes that "Tux Bex should cease trying to work up prejudice between Earlington and Madisonville."

Truth to say, Tux Bex has been raising a little sand with Judge Bud Givens. And Tux Bex, together with many citizens, have understood that Judge Bud considered himself Hopkins County; but Tux Bex had not, until now it finds from his own veritable lips, that Judge Bud is also the City of Madisonville.

It pays to advertise in Tux Bex.

RAILROAD RATES and THE CONSUMER

In 1903 the Interstate Commerce Commission summarized the exploitation of the railroads of the United States thus:

|--|------------------|
| Stock..... | $ 6,155,559,032 |
| Unpaid debt..... | 6,444,431,238 |
| Total R'y capital..... | $12,599,990,270 |
| Owned by railroads..... | 2,818,391,963 |
| Not R'y capital..... | 10,781,598,307 |
| For the same year the gross income from operation was..... | 1,900,849,007 |
| Out of this was paid interest on bonds..... | 277,801,200 |
| Dividends..... | 150,170,684 |

Or a total paid security holders.....$ 444,677,706

In 1903 there were 173,221,278 tons of freight hauled one mile at the average rate of 763 mills per ton per mile, or a fraction more than 3/4 of a cent. A reduction in the rate of only 1 mill per ton per mile would have meant a reduction in earnings of $173,221,270, wiping out the dividends entirely, and reducing the amount applicable to payment of interest by $7,044,728. In other words the $444,677,706 paid to security holders in 1903 represented a rate of only 8.53 per cent on the gross, or 4.32 per cent on the net capitalization, and if these payments had been subjected to a reduction of $173,221,270, representing a reduction of only 1 mill per ton per mile in the rate, the amount applicable for payment to security holders would have been but $271,456,536, or at a rate of 6.11 per cent on the gross, or 2.63 per cent on the net capitalization.

To make it clearer, rates are not published or quoted at so much per ton per mile, but as the business men and shippers know, at a given number of cents per hundred pounds from point of shipment to destination, consequently the illustration will be the better understood by making use of every day terms in connection with transportation.

As above stated, in 1903, 173,221,278 tons were hauled 1 mile and as the average haul was 13 1/2 miles, a simple calculation gives 1,319,781,173 tons hauled the average distance of 13 1/2 miles, but as rates are based on the 100 pounds, let us change that tonnage to correspond, which gives 26,395,623 400 cwt. (or hundred weight) transported the average distance of 13 1/2 miles. A reduction of 1 cent per 100 pounds in existing rates would mean $263,956,234 less in receipts, consequently that much less for payment to security holders, wiping out the dividends, and reducing by $97,779,048 the amount applicable to payment of interest, or leaving for payment to security holders $180,111,561, and that represents a rate of only 1.43 per cent on the gross, or 1.75 per cent on the net capitalization. Just think of the largest industrial interest in the country returning but 1.43 per cent on the investment, to its security holders! And who are these security holders?

The last annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that the number of railroad stockholders as of June 30, 1904, was 927,531, and as the holding of railroad bonds is even more general, it is reasonable to presume that the total number of stock and bondholders will approach 700,000, which may be said to represent the direct security holders, many of whom are corporations. Complete statistics from 6 states, and incomplete reports from 30 states show the savings institutions of this country as having 7,865,228 depositors, with total deposits of $2,935,204,245, and owning $571,001,277 worth of railway securities, representing 19.45 per cent of the entire deposits. A simple calculation will show that the average amount to the credit of each of these 7,865,228 depositors is but $101.70, and therefore of the security for this average deposit, 10.45 per cent, or $78.15, depends upon the stability of railway property.

Fire and life insurance companies hold $945,889,038 of railway securities, and this amount added to that held by the savings institutions makes a total of $1,416,929,315, nearly one and one-half billion dollars vitally interested in the successful development and operation of the railroads, and held by savings institutions, life and fire insurance companies as a large part of their security to their 7,305,228 small depositors, to 17,000,000 holders of life insurance policies, and to possibly 10,000,000 additional holders of fire insurance policies, giving a total, say, $4,306,228 individuals who are beyond question indirect security holders who would be affected adversely by this reduction in freight rates of only 1 cent per 100 pounds. Again, reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission show that complaints as to excessive freight rates have been received from practically every estate and territory, and upon every class of freight, for instance:

Flour, fish, canned goods, potatoes, tomatoes, melons, fruits, cabbage, onions, beans, butter, sugar, salt, lard, drugs, crockery, soap, beer, wine, whiskey, carbonated beverages, clothing, dry goods, cotton goods, hosiery, boots and shoes, cotton, wool, cattle, sheep, hogs, horses, corn, hay, oats, rye wheat, machinery, implements, vehicles, paint, leather, hides, cement, brick, wire, shingles, lumber, fertilizer, furniture, tank, piling, cranes, ties, telegraph poles, and many other articles.

Now, advocates of rate legislation, in their appeal for popular sympathy, argue that it is not the shipper, or the consignee, who is the direct sufferer by reason of excessive rates, but that it is the consumer, and that the relief of the consumer is the end, for which they strive.

We have seen the disastrous effects to railroad security holders of a reduction in the rates of only 1 cent per 100 pounds. Does any sensible person believe that the consumer could purchase the articles consumed at a less price by reason of such a reduction, which means to the shipper, or to the consignee, but 2 cents per barrel on flour, 1/4 cent on a case of canned goods, 2 cents on a case of clothing, or 3 cents on a suit of furniture? Certainly not; nor would a proposition of a 1 cent reduction in rates be acceptable to him, if such a proposition should be made. He would demand a greater one, that would bring relief to him, to the consumer. And who is the consumer? Is not everyone of the 24,365,228 indirect security holders mentioned above a consumer? And should he secure a reduction in rates for relief as a consumer, of even 1 cent per 100 pounds, which as shown, does not relieve, there is no getting around the fact that he very seriously impairs the stability of the institutions to which he is entrusted his savings, his property, and his family's future welfare.

Foley's Honey and Tar heels, lunas and stops the cough

Big Edition.

Advertisers will do well to take advantage of the Christmas edition of Tux Bex, to be issued on Dec. 14th. This edition will consist of 24 or more pages, including the illustrated front page, which will be a beautiful picture of the "Nativity" in colors. The other pages will be filled with local, general and foreign news, illustrated short stories and verse suitable for the holidays.

There will be 3000 papers issued, which will be equal to 6000 papers of Tux Bex's regular size. This edition will come out just in time to catch the Christmas shopper, and advertisers will make no mistake by buying space in this paper. It reaches over eight thousand people, who have regular work, draw good wages and, consequently, have money to spend. Put an advertisement in Tux Bex and watch your business increase.

CASTORIA.
The Kid You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

He holds the true German comedian has upon the public is not difficult of explanation. There is a spontaneity about his humor, a nimbleness about his wit, a bubbling good nature through everything he does, that is simply infectious. The audience catches it, and then it is rolled over and over with merriment of this type of happy comedy. By far the best exponent on the American stage today are the famous German comedians, Dixon and Fields, who have won the place they occupy by hard work in giving the public what it wants. They are particularly fortunate in having an exceedingly strong play. The present season these able comedians are appearing in a brand new musical play, "Hans and Nix," which has an exceedingly interesting story attached and would make a most satisfactory performance without the aid of a single specialty. But Dixon and Fields introduce a number of their own hilarious special acts, and every member of the company contributes some special feature. The cast is one of much merit. This company will be at Temple Theatre Dec. 6.

HAPPENINGS IN KENTUCKY.

Middlesboro, Ky., Nov. 20.—First Lieutenant Julian M. Howard, of the Middlesboro company, Kentucky State Guard, who accidentally shot himself with a revolver at target practice last Tuesday, died yesterday from the wound. Leut. Howard's home was at Tarboro, N. C. He was Captain of the military company of the A. and M. College at Raleigh, N. C. He came here several months ago and accepted a position as civil engineer.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 20.—While half drunk late Saturday night, John Chaney, forty-five years old, killed Mrs. Maud Ellis, a young woman, and seriously wounded Duncan Veach. Mrs. Ellis, who was the wife of Fred Ellis, alias Scott, who is serving a term in a Federal prison for deserting from the United States army, had been living a fast life since the arrest of her husband. Several men, among them Chaney, who is a fireman at a flour mill, have been infatuated with her. The woman was unusually handsome.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 20.—A switch engine on the Illinois Central here, with three loaded freight cars, ran away last night and went down the incline into the river. The crew jumped and saved their lives. The fireman went into the river with the engine, but was rescued.

Nortonville, Ky., Nov. 20.—In climbing a stump with a cocked shotgun in his hand, Alvin Dillingham slipped, causing the gun to be discharged, the entire load entering his bowels. He cannot recover.

AN AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Sores Covered Neck and Cheeks—Itched Day and Night—Nothing Did Me Any Good—Was Growing Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA AT COST OF $4.50

Miss Nellie Vander Wiele, of Lakeside, N. Y., writing under date of April 13, 1904, says: "I do wish you would publish this letter in the newspapers, so that others suffering as I have may see I am not helped. I suffered for many months with an awful skin disease, sores covering my ears, neck, and cheeks. Scabs would form and they would swell, and itch day and night. Then they would break open and blood and matter ran out. I had tried many different remedies, but none of them did me any good. I was growing worse when I tried the Cuticura Remedies. The first application helped me, and when I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, I was completely cured."

TORTURING, DISFIGURING Humours, Eczemas, Itchings, and Chaffings Cured by Cuticura

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter, and salt rheum;—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt by the testimony of the civilized world.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are sold throughout the world. Paper Huggs, Chase, Corp., Sole Proprietors, Boston, Mass. Keep your eyes on the Cuticura trademark.

A winding firm once advertised that it would send for the sum of $24.61, a receipt which, if followed to the letter, would keep folks from growing old. Some credulous persons answered the advertisement, remitting the required fee, and received the following reply:

"We would advise all such idiots as you to commit suicide at about the age of twenty-five."

MOTION TO KILL.

Eighty Per Cent of Union Miners Present at Meeting Voted to Slay Non-Union Men.

FEARFUL TESTIMONY GIVEN BY MEMBER OF UNION IN TENNESSEE.

Whitwell, Tenn., Nov. 18.—Startling testimony was given before the jury of inquest this evening by a former member of the miners' union, who testified that he was present at a meeting of the union since the strike had been on, and that Tobo Cox, also a member, made a motion that each union man take a gun and go and kill a "scab."

This witness declared that when this motion was put, there were about seventy-five members present, and about 80 per cent of those present voted in the affirmative. He says that President Bowden pleaded with the men not to resort to such lawless methods as this. Another witness described a letter which he said was written by District Board Member Cary to a friend at Danbury, in which the witness declared Cary said in substance that "We went after them last night," and that "we are going to stop this coke pulling here."

This was said to have been written the next day after the first fusillade occurred, at which time a number of houses occupied by coke pullers were riddled with bullets, and two non-union men were shot.

Another witness testified to seeing long range rifles loaded with steel bullets in J. W. Walker's store. Gov. Cox and Gen. Hannah are expected here Monday.

Resolutions.

The members of Earlington Court No. 55, Ben Hur Lodge in session at their lodge adopted the following resolutions in regard to the loss of their beloved member, Hugh Clymer, whose death occurred Friday, Oct. 6, 1905:

Resolved, That in the death of Hugh Clymer the lodge has been deprived of the service of a faithful, consistent and earnest member.

Resolved, That our community has lost an excellent citizen and one whose life is worthy of emulation.

Resolved, That we tender our deepest and truest sympathy to the bereaved ones in the loss of their loved one.

WE PROVE THAT SPECIFIC BLOOD POISONING IS CURED TO STAY CURED BY

FOERG'S REMEDY

Imagine the extreme gratitude of a man to induce him to permit the publication of such a testimonial as the following:

I, Henry Milan, of Evansville, Ind., formerly of Eddyville, Ky., state that I was cured of a very bad case of Blood Poisoning of three months standing by the use of Foerg's Remedy in the year 1899 or 1900, only having taken 4 bottles. I further state that I am now well and have never been troubled with return of that disease. This remedy cured me sound and well, and I recommend it to anyone suffering with this.

(Signed) HENRY MILAN

ANOTHER BLOODY DAY AT KISHINEFF

Roughs Kill Jews at End of Church Service, While the Police Look On.

HUNDREDS OF PERSECUTED ONES SLOWLY DYING OF STARVATION

The Pruth River, Which Divides Rumania and Bessarabia, Giving Up the Dead, Stains Its Waters—Mostly Corpses of Jews.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—Hundreds of Jews were killed and wounded in Kishineff Sunday when there was a renewal of the anti-Semitic riots. The trouble began early in the morning, and was at its height just after the end of church services, when the streets were crowded with worshippers. The students joined with the Jews to fight the anti-Jewish element, which consisted largely of the criminal element, and there was much bloodshed. The militia and police were inactive, the disorders coming to an end late Sunday afternoon, when the Jews and their allies forced the roughs to retire.

Scores of shops owned by Jews were demolished by the mobs, and women and children who were attending them were attacked. The suffering here among the Jews is terrible. Hundreds are slowly dying of starvation.

St. Petersburg Strike Is Being Kindled. St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—The general strike throughout the city is being brought to a close. Workmen everywhere are returning to their positions.

Massacre Victim Bodies in River. Bucharest, Nov. 21.—As a ghastly sequel of the recent bloody outbreaks and massacres in the Russian province of Bessarabia, in which so many persons, principally Jews, lost their lives, corpses of Jews are found constantly floating down the Pruth river, which divides Rumania from Bessarabia. Many of these bodies have been washed ashore, and others have been taken from the water by Roumanians.

Whenever the bodies are washed against the Bessarabian shores cowbards throw them back into the river. Roumanians, however, have been taking the corpses from the water and burying them.

Mutineers Arrive in America. Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—A number of Russians who were sailors on the Russian battleship, arrived in this city on the British steamship Merion. They were met by friends and taken to New York.

Was Yale's Oldest Graduate. Detroit, Nov. 22.—Rev. Joseph S. Lord, who was graduated from Yale university in 1831, and who was the oldest living alumnus, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. J. Tilton, at Laingsburg, Mich., aged 97 years.

St. Petersburg Ice Bound. St. Petersburg, Nov. 22.—The ports of St. Petersburg and Cronstadt are icebound, thus precluding the possibility of the Minneapolis or any other American warship visiting those ports.

Will Marry A Battleground. Madrid, Nov. 21.—King Alfonso of Spain and Princess Ena of Battenberg, only daughter of Princess Beatrice, widow of Prince Henry of Battenberg, are to be married in May, 1906.

Death of Editor Practitioner. St. Louis, Nov. 21.—Dr. Emil Freytor, editor of the Westliche Post, died at his home in this city, aged 71 years, of blood poisoning, which followed a mere scratch.

European Made American Money. Schleswig, Prussia, Nov. 18.—A band of counterfeiters, who made a specialty of making bogus American money, has been apprehended and arrested.

AWFUL TRAGEDY IN ILLINOIS

Rejected Suitor Mortally Wounds Girl and Cuts His Throat.

Shot Away Her Jaw and Then Beat Her Over the Head With a Club.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 21.—One of the most horrible tragedies in this history of central Illinois was committed at Waverly, Morgan county. Clement Gray mortally wounded Miss Nellie May Rogers with gunshots and then cut his own throat, dying almost instantly. Gray demanded that Miss Rogers marry him. They had frequent quarrels.

Gray went to her home and renewed his demands. She again refused. He pulled a revolver. The first shot tore away her jaw. The second and third went wild. She fled into the yard, where he beat her head in a frightful manner with a club. Believing her dead, he drew a razor across his throat. Some time ago Gray consulted a fortune-teller, who predicted his death in two weeks.

Say Streets Were Unsanitary. New York, Nov. 21.—Officers of the British squadron which recently visited New York and Annapolis, declared, on the eve of sailing for Gibraltar, that the stories of deceptions from the squadron were grossly exaggerated. Nevertheless, fully two hundred sailors were left behind.

Price For a Story. Denver, Col., Nov. 21.—Fred O. Shaffer, a wealthy mining man of Denver, has given to the Denver Press club a $1,000 bar of bullion to be given as a prize for the best story on Colorado written by anyone attending the annual meeting of the National Association of Press Clubs.

Over One Hundred Lives Lost. London, Nov. 20.—One hundred and twenty-eight lives were lost by the wreck of the Southwestern railway's cross-channel steamer Hilda, from Southampton, England, for St. Malo, on the north coast of France.

Many Lives Endangered. Chicago, Nov. 22.—Many lives were endangered by a fire in the newly destroyed Commercial building, a five-story structure in South Chicago. Mrs. Broadhurst was severely hurt by falling through a skylight.

"The Philippines Are Ours." Kansas, Nov. 21.—Secretary Taft, speaking before the Commercial club of this city on "The Philippines," declared that "The Philippine islands are ours and must be ours for more than a generation."

Bigelow Breaching Down. Leavenworth, Kas., Nov. 22.—Frank G. Bigelow, the defaulting Milwaukee banker, confined in the government prison at Fort Leavenworth, is said to be showing signs of breaking down.

Is Yet An Open Question. Washington, Nov. 22.—Although the board of consulting engineers decided in favor of a sea level canal across the isthmus, it is yet an open question, as the decision of the board is not final.

A Gift From Shonts. Monmouth, Ill., Nov. 22.—Theodore P. Shonts, chairman of the Isthmian canal commission, has given to Monmouth college, his alma mater, $10,000 towards the college library fund.

From Apprehension. St. Louis, Nov. 21.—The coroner's jury found that Minnie Mitchell and Alice Bowers came to their deaths from apoplexy. They were found dead in their room last Thursday.

A Brutal Husband's Deed. Evansville, Ind., Nov. 21.—Ellis Miller, a laborer, threw hot water on his wife, nearly scalding her to death, because she refused to arise in the morning before he built a fire.

Reported Lost During Gale. Halifax, N. S., Nov. 21.—The Norwegian steamer, which was crewed by 15 men is reported lost off the coast of Nova Scotia during the recent gale.

FRED FEILER

Passes Away Early Saturday Morning From Hemorrhage of the Brain.

REGRETFUL SURPRISE TO FRIENDS.

Mr. Fred Feiler, aged 55 years, one of Earlington's well known and respected citizens, died Saturday morning at 12:30 o'clock from an attack of hemorrhage of the brain, from which he suffered several hours earlier at the restaurant, in which he was a co-partner with Mr. Frank B. Arnold.

Mr. Feiler was born in Germany on July 7, 1850 and came to this country at the age of 3 years with his parents and settled at Louisville. He came to Earlington in 1870 and, except for a short time, had resided in or near this city since then. For years Mr. Feiler was employed as weighmaster for the St. Bernard Mining Co. at their mines, and only resigned a short time ago to engage in business. He had been a member of the I. O. O. F. for years, and a delegation of that order attended the funeral. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feiler, of Louisville, were present at the funeral.

The interment took place at Grapeland cemetery Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. J. F. Story, of that vicinity, at the cemetery. The deceased leaves a wife and one son, Win. Feiler, to survive him. The sincere sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved ones in their dark hour of sorrow.

Resolutions.

St. Bernard Lodge No. 240, Earlington, Ky., Nov. 20, 1905.

Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Grand Master of the Universe to call from our midst to the Grand Lodge on High our lamented and esteemed friend, Bro. Fred Feiler, and

Whereas, In his grand character of Odd Fellow, he displayed by his affectionate regard and love, his delight in our pleasure, and prosperity, his untiring energy for promotion of all good and charity, and

Whereas, By his sterling qualities, he won our appreciation, kindest affection and regards, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Feiler, this lodge has lost a noble, faithful and worthy member and brother, and his wife a devoted, kind and loving husband.

Resolved, That this lodge extend to the bereaved widow its most profound sympathy in this hour of irreparable loss, and may God ever watch over and protect her.

Resolved, That a memorial page be set apart upon the records of this lodge and that these resolutions be spread thereon, a copy be sent to his family and a copy be sent to the Earlington Bee and the Madisonville Hustler for publication.

SEED DISTRIBUTION

Will be Began by Agricultural Department on December 1st.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The annual distribution of vegetable and flower seeds by the Department of Agriculture will begin on Dec. 1 and before planting time it is expected the entire amount, aggregating 38,000,000 packages, will be in the hands of the people in all sections of the country. Congress for the past several years has appropriated $200,000 for this purpose, but a portion of the amount is used for foreign experiment work—other kindred matters. The bulk of the 38,000,000 packages is subject to the order of Senators and Representatives for distribution among their constituents, the Secretary of Agriculture reserving one fifth of the entire amount to supply the statistical corps correspondents, the Weather Bureau and for other purposes. The country has been divided into six sections with special regard to climate and soils and the seeds will be sent only to those localities in which their propagation and growth is believed to be especially adapted. In addition to those of the vegetable and flower varieties the department sends out quantities of corn, forage and feed seeds to localities to which they are best suited and from which it is thought good results may be obtained.

G. B. Burhans Testifies After 4 Years. G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle, Centre, X. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust secretions, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."

A WORD WITH ADVERTISERS

A merchant who had two stores in a small town tried an experiment. He put a bargain counter in each store containing the same articles at the same prices. In the newspaper of one village he advertised the special sale counters. In the paper of the other he did not. In one month in the village where he did not advertise he sold $984 worth of goods. In the store where he did advertise he sold the same goods amounting to $1,724. In commenting on the result of the experiment the merchant says: "People who got the paper with the advertisement would pass by one store and drive for miles to the other one, for what they could have gotten at the same price in my store at their door but they did not know it was there."

SEC'Y TAFT TALKS ABOUT THE CANAL

Makes an Address Before the Commercial Club of St. Louis.

SHALL THE CANAL BE A SEA-LEVEL OR A LOCK CANAL

That is the Great Question Before the Board of Engineers-Believes the American People Will Not Break Their Backs Over the Private Interests.

St. Louis, Nov. 20.—Hon. William H. Taft, secretary of war, who has just returned from an official inspection trip to the Isthmus of Panama, was the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet given by the Commercial club, which was attended by upwards of 100 of the representative citizens of St. Louis.

Striking Points in the Address. The following were among the more striking points made by the secretary in his address:

The decision of congress in favor of the Panama route for a canal was undoubtedly a wise one. Few engineers who have visited it have doubted the possibility of its construction either as a lock or sea-level canal. The Walker commission is entitled to the gratitude of the nation.

SEC. OF WAR WILLIAM H. TAFT.

The theory advanced by the opponents of the Panama route, and by the opponents of any canal, that the route of the canal has not been finally decided upon, is utterly unfounded. The great question before the board is, Shall the canal be a sea-level or a lock canal? If it is to be a lock canal, as recommended by the Walker commission, I think the president may build the canal safely on the money appropriated, without consulting congress further as to the type. If it is to be a sea-level canal, the question, it seems to me for reasons already stated, should be left to congress. It has been held by the attorney general that the federal eight-hour law applies to those employed by the canal commission. I was at first disposed to think its effect would be good, because, we could have three shifts every 24 hours. I am assured, however, by Mr. Stevens and Gov. Mayson that its enforcement only interferes with good work.

It is not to be expected that owners and managers of great transcontinental lines should become enthusiastic over enterprises which, if carried to completion, must certainly affect the rates of freight between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. Troubled congressional investigations will be held from time to time. Doubtless they ought to be held, to assure the public. But if they are to be permitted to delay the work on the canal and to paralyze the energy of those upon whom the burden of pushing the work must fall, then they will be productive of evil and will become exactly what many private interests would be glad to have them become—the grave of all high hopes for a trans-isthmian canal. The American people will not permit such a catastrophe.

An executive order, putting the Digby act into force for the zone against all the world, including Panama, caused much ill feeling among the Panamanians for a little while, but by its abrogation and other concessions the good will of the republic was quickly restored.

By the 1st of December we shall have spent $60,000,000 in the course of acquiring a transisthmian canal. The two questions which the American people have a right to ask are: First, have we proceeded without unnecessary delay? Second, have we received our money's worth?

Yellow fever has been reduced to a point where, during the last month, only three cases were reported, not one of these among employees, and all originating many miles from the canal line.

The fact that no white labor can be found to stand work in the tropical heat is not to be removed from the forum of ordinary trade union labor discussion, and lead to a solution free from the considerations of race might properly have grown weight in a more temperate climate and in conditions less resembling a national emergency.

COLORED COLUMN

EDITED BY J. R. ROBINSON.

We wish to correct a mistake we made last week in announcing Rev. J. O. Parrish's visit. He visited his son, John Parrish, instead of Mr. John Parrish.

Mr. Luther Hines has returned home after a few weeks' visit to Seber.

Mr. Green Perkins had his wrist hurt very bad last week, but is getting along nicely now.

Mr. Bishop Smith, who runs a machine in the Barnley mine, had the misfortune of slipping, falling on him, breaking his arm and injuring him otherwise last week. He is getting along nicely.

Prof. Hardin, who has been attending the bedside of his sick wife for the past two weeks, returned to Princeton Sunday, leaving Mrs. Hardin much better and still improving.

Those who attended the box entertainment Saturday night seemed to enjoy themselves very much. Ham, turkey, chicken, sardines, oysters, chicken, cake, candy, and all kind of fruits and nuts, were found to be in those valuable boxes, but there were three of the most plentiful looking gentlemen when superintendence arrived as you ever saw, but they soon found relief, and their appetites were treated with due respect just the same.

Rev. Smith baptized several candidates in the lake Sunday. His meeting has closed with many addressees to the church.

Dr. Davis, of Rome, Ga., preached the dedicated sermon Sunday, instead of Rev. P. P. Whitesides. He also preached Sunday night. He certainly can interest you.

The Good Samaritans gave an entertainment Saturday night and report success. A few of the Madisonville people attended.

We are sorry to note that Rev. H. Amos is spending very slow, and oh, how we miss him from church and Sunday school.

Miss Dealey Ratley, who has been suffering with a very bad ankle, is improving very well.

We are sorry to say that Mrs. Wm. Radford seems to be improving so very slow.

We are also glad to note that Mrs. Lem Johnson and Mrs. Jacob Bogus are getting along nicely; and Mrs. Jessie Moore is improving.

Mrs. Samuel Buckner, the step-mother of Mrs. Lula Robinson is visiting her and family this week.

Prof. T. H. Moore made a business trip to Madisonville Saturday.

We wish to say to all of our readers that have any news to be published, please have them to reach me Sunday or Monday of each week. If later than this I will be unable to get them ready for publication in due time. Now we are sorry that the Hecla news failed to reach us in time last week, but we could not help it, as we received them on Tuesday, which was too late. Therefore, I publish these this week, but they could not help it.

Sick are: Miss Wm. Jones, Mrs. L. C. Harden, Mrs. Bogus, Rev. H. Amos and Jessie Moore.

HECLA NEWS—COLORED.

Jim Grey, Andrew West, Jim Ryles, Tom Logan, Rev. Douglas, Sam and Whitson Faves, the leading men of Hecla, were called to Madisonville last Wednesday morning on business.

Estella Eaves is visiting her brother, Robert Eaves, in Crabtree, this week.

Margaret Douglas and Sallie Eaves was in Madisonville one day last week.

Geo. Palm, of Harrisburg, was here Sunday visiting Louis Thomas.

Gus Gray and wife, of Mordona, have moved here to live with their father, Perry Gray.

Luther Moody and family are living in Hecla at present.

"The Holy City."

The magnificent biblical drama, "The Holy City" was presented at the Grand opera house last evening. The play is one of the strongest and most beautiful that has ever been witnessed in this city. It is the matchless story of Jesus at the time of his trial by Pontius Pilate, and the wonderful events of that period are told in a thrilling manner. The cast was one of uniform excellence. There was no particular star, but all were entitled to great credit for the showing made. Rev. J. R. Wright, as John the Baptist, made the character seem almost as true as life. Arling Aline as Malchus the nephew of Caiaphas, was especially fine.

while Sidney Blair as Marius, and Will F. McNulty in the part of Judas Iscariot, displayed a remarkable talent. Peter, Andrew and John the Beloved came in for their share of the applause. Miss Grace Hamilton as Salome, the daughter of Herodias, proved a great favorite and her dance of the death before the king was weirdly, fascinating and beautiful.

Special mention should be made of the costumes and the scenery. The crucifixion scene after Michael Angelo's great masterpiece, and the grand transformation of the Holy Sepulcher, were perhaps the finest that Peoria has ever seen. The play teaches a deep and lasting lesson and will not soon be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to have been present.—Peoria Journal, Sept. 24, 1905.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kans., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by St. Bernard Drug Store.
